School of Music and Dance "Opportunities to Change Minds & Hearts"

Going Well:

Two events were hosted this year and three more excellent presenters are planned for next year.

Project Description:

Various speakers will be invited to present on the theme of inclusion and equity as seen in the arts. The presentation will be followed with a casual get together to digest and process the ideas shared, ask questions on the experience of the speaker and see how we can apply the information.

Lesson Learned:

We need to find more creative and thought-provoking ways to get our message out and "bring it home" to everyone, in order to change for the better our individual support of inclusion and equity.

Challenge:

Getting the word out effectively when everyone has busy schedules and other priorities.
